Lilly Vadaneaux is a pianist, singer and composer who graduated in 2024 from Clare College, Cambridge, where she read Music and was a Choral Scholar. At Cambridge, Lilly held Instrumental Awards as a member of a piano quintet and a piano duo, and in her final year studied with Andrew West on the CAMRAM scheme. As a winner of the 2023 Clare College Concerto Competition, she was thrilled to be able to perform the Bach D minor Keyboard Concerto in June 2024. From 2011 to 2021 Lilly attended the Guildhall School of Music Junior Department, where she studied piano with Stephen Coombs and composition with Paul Whitmarsh. She won the Junior Guildhall Piano Prize in 2020 and was a Lutine Prize finalist in 2021. Lilly currently studies with Andrew Bottrill and Andrew West, and looks forward to returning to Guildhall in the autumn for a Master of Performance in piano.
